

The 2012 Chardonnay La Pommeraie exhibits more tropical fruit notes as well as hints of hazelnut oil and orange blossoms. Brilliantly constructed with medium to full body, good acidity and a judicious touch of oak, it should drink well for 6-8 years. 93

The 2012 Chardonnay Ft. Ross/Seaview is a brilliant example of Sonoma Coast Chardonnay, showing notes of honeysuckle, white peach, unbuttered popcorn, spring flowers and white currants. Complex and medium to full-bodied with a delicate influence of oak, this beauty should drink nicely for 5-7 years, perhaps longer. 94

The 2012 Pinot Noir La Pommeraie exhibits notes of apple skins, plums, cherries and earth... medium body, and good richness, purity and depth. It should drink well for 4-5 years. 90